

HYPER | Healthcare: Youth Perspectives. EmpoweRed

HYPER is a group dedicated to empowering, connecting, and mobilizing young leaders and future decision makers in the life-science industry.

Launched in 2020, HYPER focuses on areas of relevance for young professionals in the biopharmaceutical sector, from innovation to industry footprint to sustainability and supports the emergence of a new generation of industry leaders that can master core global health issues early on in their careers and help amplify industry messages.

HYPER has three main objectives:

1. Empowering young professionals in the biopharmaceutical industry by increasing their exposure to and understanding of global health issues.
2. Reinforcing the culture of networking and enabling young people in the biopharmaceutical industry to share their stories and learn from each other.
3. Fostering a better understanding and awareness of the biopharmaceutical industry contribution to global health to support emerging industry voices in dialogue with and across key stakeholders.
