

Continuing progress
in global health:

WORKING TOGETHER FOR THE FUTURE

On the occasion of its 50th anniversary, the International Federation of Pharmaceutical Manufacturers & Associations (IFPMA) invites you to join the discussion held in Geneva, the Global Health Capital

The event takes place at the Hotel Intercontinental during the World Health Assembly on Wednesday May 23rd from 18:00–21:00

Join a discussion on “Continuing progress in global health: working together for the future” held in Geneva, the Global Health Capital

The event will feature leaders working in global health policy, health financing, and the pharmaceutical industry, coming together to discuss the enablers of health progress over the past fifty years, and what is needed to ensure continued progress going forward. IFPMA will present a comprehensive report on the contribution from R&D-based biopharmaceutical industry to global health progress.

The event takes place during the World Health Assembly on Wednesday May 23rd from 18:00–21:00. It will be followed by a cocktail reception.

Please set aside this time for an enriching discussion on how stakeholders involved in all angles of health can work together for continued health progress.

We hope to see you on the 23rd of May
